It is important for all of us to be aware of safety concerns for our residents with disabilities. Participants will get practical information on: home, transit and pedestrian safety, as well as elopement and wandering prevention. Attendees will also learn about encounters with law enforcement, safety education, as well as resources and supports for any member/role of the community, in order to understand and help prevent unintentional injuries among those with disabilities. These, amongst other topics, will be discussed during the webinar.
